

Children's iPad App/Book released on iTunes AppStore by new East Lothian based publisher.

Pumpy Bee, a Kids Book with Unusual Momentum!

*Have you ever heard of a bee that has no buzz?
Well, meet Pumpy... Pumpy Bee to give him his full name.*

*Pumpy can still fly though. Oh yes, he can fly alright.
He just uses slightly different means... PUMP POWER!*

He's quite literally powered by FARTS!

Pumpy is unique indeed. But being different is not always easy. Sometimes the other bees can be very cruel.

One day, on his way to school, something happens that changes everything...

This funny wee book is a tale of how one special skill and a whole heap of bravery surpasses immense size and strength.

Written by Gavin Oattes and illustrated by Itchy Mac (Gordon Tait), this picture book contains over 26 pages of narrated story as well as an interactive pump game and a colouring in section.

There are many great sounds throughout this book including a whole load of farts and a lovely theme tune written and performed by Hailey Beavis.

Made in a wee cottage in Scotland by Colin Usher of Coffee Table Junior.

About the author: Gavin Oattes

Gavin is a former primary school teacher who now travels the world entertaining, motivating and inspiring children and adults from all walks of life with his company Tree Of Knowledge. He lives in Edinburgh, Scotland with his wife Ali and children Kian and Ellis.

Pumpy Bee is available now on the Apple App Store. To download the app for iPad, visit:

COFFEE TABLE

COFFEE TABLE is an exciting new digital publisher based in East Lothian.

Creating a fun story-telling experience for kids to enjoy on the iPad.

We also work closely with galleries, curators, arts organisations and artists to produce, design and distribute digital publications.

Sumptuously visual, interactive, digital publications designed for the iPad and distributed via the iTunes AppStore (a book as an APP). Our selection process is cautious and deliberate in choosing to publish works that we feel are highly desirable or commercially viable... or ideally, both.

COFFEE TABLE is a branch of digital design company Coffee With A Lid Ltd. coffeewithalid.co.uk
